Dr. HAMILTON'S ELIXIR.

A sovereign remedy for Colds, Obstinate Coughs, Asthma, Catarrhs, Sore Throats, and approaching Consumption.

To Parents who may have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH,

This discovery of the first magnitude, as it is an immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorder to which children are liable—The Elixir is perfectly agreeable and the dose so small, that no difficulty arises in taking it.

From LUTHER MARTIN, Esq. Attorney-General of the state of Maryland.

Gentlemen,
I comply with your request in stating my opinion of Hamilton's Elixir. It has been used in my family for two or three years past, with uniform success, whenever colds, coughs, or similar complaints have rendered medicine necessary. I have myself found it an excellent and agreeable remedy for a very painful and troublesome affection of the breast, accompanied with soreness and with obstructed and difficult breathing.

On these accounts I do not hesitate to recommend Hamilton's Elixir, as a valuable medicine, and deserving public attention.

LUTHER MARTIN.

Mr. Abijah Henry, Bridge-street, Baltimore, was cured by one bottle of Hamilton's Elixir of a very complicated disorder, occasioned by a severe cold caught several months ago. He breathed with the greatest difficulty, and was often thrown into weakening sweats when he attempted to walk any distance, and his voice would frequently fail in such a degree that he could only attempt to whisper: he has seen upwards of six weeks without a return of his complaints and desires to give this public testimony in favor of this invaluable medicine.

Dr. Hamilton's GRAND RESTORATIVE,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine, for the speedy relief and permanent cure of the various complaints which result from dissipated pleasures—juvenile indiscretions—residence in climates unfavorable to the constitution—the immoderate use of tea, frequent intoxication, or any other destructive inattention—the unskillful or excessive use of mercury—the diseases peculiar to females at a certain period of life—badlyings, &c. &c.

And is proved by long and extensive experience to be absolutely unparalleled in the cure of

Nervous Disorders,	Violent cramps in the stomach and back,
Consumptions,	Anæsthesia,
Lowneis of spirits,	Melancholy,
Loss of appetite,	Gout in the stomach,
Impurity of the blood,	Pains in the limbs,
Hysterical affections,	Relaxations,
Inward weakneſſes,	Involuntary emiſſions,
Seminal weakneſſes,	Oſtinate gleet,
Fluxus (or whites)	Impotency, &c. &c.
Barrennes,

In cases of extremity, where the long prevalence and obstinacy of disease has brought on a general impoverishment of the system, excessive debility of the whole frame, and a wasting of the flesh, which no nostrum or cordial could repair, a perseverance in the use of this medicine has performed the most astonishing cures.

HAMILTON's ESSENCE AND EXTRACT OF MUSTARD,

A safe and effectual remedy for gout, rheumatism, palsey, sprains, bruises, pains in the face and neck, &c. And has performed more cures in the above complaint than all the other medicines ever before made public.

From Dr. Weatherburn,
Wythe county, Virginia.

GENTLEMEN,
I purchased at your shop the preparations you call Hamilton's Essence, or Extract of Mustard, which I believe has perfectly removed a chronic rheumatism (of that kind named sciatica, or of the hip joint) under which I had labored for a long time, and which had baffled every article in the Materia Medica, and every mode of treatment received into practice for the cure of this obstinate disease. If you think this letter useful you are at liberty to make it public.

Yours, &c.

W. WEATHERBURN.

John Hoover, rope maker, South Second street, between Mary and Christian streets, Philadelphia, voluntarily maketh oath as follows, namely,

That his wife, Mary Hoover, was so severely afflicted with a violent rheumatism, very disengringly situated, the consequence of a severe cold after lying in, as to be confined to her bed for several weeks, and was at length reduced to the melancholy apprehension of remaining a cripple for life, notwithstanding the most respectable medical advice was followed, and every probable remedy attempted: when seeing several cases of cures performed by Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard, they were procured from Mr. Birch, No. 17, South Second street. The first application enabled her to walk across the room, and the use of one bottle restored her to her usual state of health and strength.

HAMILTON'S WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES,

Which have within four years past cured upwards of one hundred and twenty thousand persons of both sexes, of every age, and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from worms, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever of similar title, so commonly complained of as operating with violence, on the contrary, a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution; contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent, and is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady, or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body, but will, without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. They are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humors and corruptions; feverish and bilious complaints, and the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on the occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body, are chiefly of four kinds, viz. the Teres or large round worm, the Acaides, or small maw worm, the Cucurbitina, or short, flat, white worm, and lastly, the Taenia or tape worm, so called from its resemblance to tape; this is often many yards long, and is full of joints—it is most hurtful, and most difficult to cure.

Among the symptoms attending worms, are disagreeable breath, especially in the morning—Bad and corrupting gums—Itching in the nose and about the seat—Convulsions and epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech—Starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep—Irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food, and sometimes voracious—Purging, with slimy and fetid stools—Vomiting—Large and hard belly—Pains and sickness at the stomach—Pains in the head and thighs, with loweis of spirits—Slow fever, with small and irregular pulse—A dry cough—Excessive thirst—Sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's worm destroying lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season will effectively prevent the vomiting and purging of children, a dreadful disorder which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our cities. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known and has restored to health and strength a great number even in advanced stages of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness, having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

CASES OF CURES—

By Hamilton's

WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES,

(Selected from thousands) the authenticity of which any person may ascertain either by letter or personal application.

TAPE WORM.

Mr. SAMUEL FULLER, Inn keeper, on the Hartford road, ten miles from Baltimore, began about twenty months ago to be grievously afflicted with a tape worm, which increased fast in size and strength, so as to excite the most horrid sensations by his writhing motions and intolerable pains, resembling the gnawing and tearing of his bowels, which deprived him of his necessary sleep, and caused such dreadful apprehensions as cannot be conceived but by one in a similar situation—his appetite wasted rapidly, and with that his strength, so that he was unable to attend to any business—when he heard of some excellent cures performed by Hamilton's worm lozenges, he took a large dose, which brought away about FOUR YARDS of the worm (now in the possession of Lee, & co.) but a renewal of his pains soon convinced him that this monstrous reptile had recovered its first vigor—Application was made to Lee & Co. for more of their medicine, with their advice, from which resulted the total expulsion of his formidable enemy, in several pieces, which he supposed to be SIX or EIGHT YARDS more. A few months have since elapsed, and Mr. Fuller is now in perfect health. The above facts are well known to a numerous circle of his neighbors, and himself will gratify any who may wish to make further inquiries on the subject. Although Hamilton's worm lozenges produce such powerful effects, when necessary, yet they are perfectly innocent and mild in their operation on the human body, even taken in large doses, as Mr. Fuller will testify—their particular mildness is abundantly evident in innumerable cures of infants.

Communicated by Dr. John Spangler, York town, Pennsylvania.

Letter from the reverend Mr. JOHN MOLTHER, minister of the Moravian church, in York town, York, January 4th, 1802.

DEAR SIR,

Dr. Hamilton's lozenges have been recommended to me as a very adequate means for the cure of children afflicted with worms, I procured a box for the use of my family, to try whether by means of this medicine I might be enabled to gain a point, which, to accomplish, different other means had proved abortive. My eldest boy had a very sickly appearance, was very restless at night, grew leaner from time to time; in short he seemed to be in a precarious state of health, which would yield to none of the medicines administered until I gave him two doses of lozenges, agreeably to the directions, which carried off a substance to all appearance a mere mucus but upon close inspection quite repelled with very small living animals. Not one of that sort of worms which usually afflict children came from him. Since that period he grew remarkably better in health, and though lean, has got a fresh and lively complexion. Upon different occasions I have used this medicine as a purging substitute, and found it to answer exceedingly well, without bringing on belly ache, or any other disagreeable sensations, so often occasioned by purging medicines. Upon the which I judge this medicine to be, besides its main object, one of the most salutary means for restoring lost appetite, and promoting a proper state of digestion, by carrying off that bilious substance, which engenders so much indisposition both among children and adults.

I am, Sir, your most obedient servant,

JOHN MOLTHER.

For the Alexandria Daily Advertiser.

The Road from Alexandria to Dumfries.

MR. SNOWDEN,

ON the 23d instant, I took the liberty of sending you a reply to the communication on this subject, inserted in your paper of the 19th—in yours of the 28th I remark that it will not be published because the subject is not deemed sufficiently interesting to the public; in this I beg leave to differ from you: The communication you observe, did not come from me, but from him who is the author of the allusion. The writer is in no way interested in the subject of controversy. This, as you so state it, I have no doubt is the case.—But the writer, who ever he may be, announces, at the head of one, of your columns, a change in the great road leading from one extremity of the Union to the other; and he tells the world that by means of a new and elegant road, opened at the expense, and by the exertions of an individual, the distance is lessened—the way made infinitely better—that it leads through a well cultivated country—passes over good bridges &c.—and he bears his communication with the following words in Italics, "Mail Stage by Occoquan." What was the intention of the writer who made this communication, it is not for me to say, but what its tendency is, no man can mistake. Is it not to advise the traveller to take this new road because it is shorter and better? Is it not to insinuate, that the water courses are well bridged on this route, and not on the other, and that this has become the main post road, and that the other has been abandoned, as such, by the proper authorities? Is it not to eulogize an individual, for thus accommodating the public, in so many points, by his own exertions, of his own expence, and without any private or interested view? Now all those things I do most positively and unequivocally deny, and should the traveller not have the means of judging between those who assert and those who deny, on a subject so interesting, to him, as the road he rides on—I have too much confidence in your impartiality, sir, to believe that you will refuse it.

The first and principal question is, whether the nearest route from Alexandria, Dumfries, by Colchester, or by the Occoquan mills?—Any map on ventricose country will shew that a strait road drawn from Alexandria to Dumfries would cross the Occoquan river considerably below Colchester—and most particularly beg to refer, to a survey made by authority, about ten years ago (when a question was discussed in the Virginia legislature) as to locating the district court of the three neighboring counties—Here it may be seen how much below Colchester, the straight line crosses; and that the distance from Alexandria to Dumfries as laid down, on the line, is exactly 20 3/4 miles—it will not be denied that the Occoquan mills lie in this river, at least 2 1/2 miles above, add to the westward of Colchester, nor that the course of the river is nearly straight here. The road to Colchester, already diverges too much to the westward, and the distance is considerably lengthened by it, still it is asserted that by making it diverge more to the westward, and cross 2 1/2 miles higher up, it is shortened: This is indeed a paradox. The fact is, that the mill road is from three to four miles longer than the post road; it is taken out of the post road, at about four miles to the northward of the Occoquan, and returned to it about the same distance to the southward of the river—between those two points the post road runs 8 miles the mill road at least 11, the difference 3 miles—More than one third of the distance would be added by taking this last mentioned route—How then are the public indebted to the exertions of an individual—it would be an awkward thing for a traveller from Boston to Charleston, to have many of these debts to pay. Suppose only one half of the individuals near his route should insist upon laying him under this sort of obligation, and induce him to pass their mills and stores to acknowledge his gratitude. The distance by the post road is, 1162 miles; one half of which is, 581 miles; now as 11 is to 8 so is 581 to 811; difference 230 miles only, which our traveller would have to ride out of his way, between Boston and Charleston, to thank those who had so indulgently accommodated him.

The mill road, is not better than the post road between the points in question, nor is it so good. It leads through a country infinitely more unlevel, but having been lately cut, wears for the moment a newer garb nicely fitted, to captivate the unwary; at each point where it has been taken from the post-road, special pains have been bestowed to lead off the unsuspecting stranger—a spacious avenue smooth as a bowling green, invites him to enter and least this should not be enough, an handsome signpost is planted encroaching on the post-road, to keep it out of view. No sooner, however, has he fairly embarked, than he has to encounter at almost every step, hills, morasses and straight roads scarcely wide enough to admit the passing of one carriage by another, the road is nowhere in those places more than 18 feet wide, and in many not so much, at one place for the extent of half a mile, on the north side of Occoquan and near that river, I do aver from personal inspection, that it is impossible for carriages to pass each other without taking the horses out, and even then not without great danger; such is the narrowness of the way, such is the precipice above, and such is the abyss below, closely bordering on each side; as a proof, let me state a fact. On the 27th of this month, the stage full of passengers met at this place, a wagon loaded with wood; the stage was stopped, to pass was presently found impossible, nor could it be effected but by unloading the wagon, taking off the wheels, and removing it by hand.

by his own exertions, and without any private and unequivocally de-traveller nor have the between those who assert
on a subject so inter-the road he rides on—confidence in your impartiality that you will refuse principal question is, whether from Alexandria, or by the Colchester, or by the Folkestone. Any map on view, shows that a strait from Alexandria to Dumfrisburgh, river considerable from most particularly, made by authority (when a question was in Virginia legislature) as to court of the three neighbors, it may be seen how straight the straight line distance from Alexandria to the post office department has made him change his conduct in part, but that he is still playing the same game as to half the road. How long he will continue to ride superior to the law and regardless of the restrictions of his contract... How long the officer at the head of that department will permit such things to be done, or how long the community will suffer offences of this nature to pass without information and prosecution—time will shew.

ONE OF THE COMMUNITY.

August 30th, 1805.

CHARLESTON, August 23.

The brig Eliza, captain Taylor arrived yesterday in thirty two days from Malaga, furnishes the following intelligence:

Off Gibraltar, on the 21st July, captain Taylor spoke a Portuguese seventy four, and an American brig from the straits. The master of the latter vessel informed that the Commodore of the American squadron had concluded a Peace with the Tripolitans; but upon what terms capt. T. could not learn.

In the bay of Gibraltar captain T. saw Lord Nelson's fleet at anchor and was boarded by an officer from one of the ships, who stated that the British fleet left Barbadoes on the 14th of June, and had followed as they supposed, in the wake of the combined fleets, until they arrived off the coast of France; when having every reason to suppose that the French and Spaniards had got safely into Brest, Lord Nelson stood away for Gibraltar, where he arrived on the 19th July.

A French and Spanish squadron of six sail of the line, had sailed from Cartagena, with six thousand troops on board, supposed to be destined for Egypt. They were followed by rear admiral Bickerion, with five sail of the line, convoying the troops under the command of Gen. Craig.

The Spaniards plunder every American vessel they fall in with, captain T. was fired upon by eight of their gun boats but escaped by good sailing. A Boston ship from Leghorn had been detained by them, and the master compelled to pay 1200 dollars before they would suffer him to proceed.

BALTIMORE, September 2.

Arrived, schooner Medusa, Davis, 20 days from Mariguan. Left there, August 3, schooner Edith and Polly, of Baltimore, uncertain. The Nonpareil, and Matchless, at Port-au-Prince, to sail in 5 weeks. Touched at Jeremie, and left brig Antelope, Gray, and schr. Fanny, Swaine, of Baltimore, to sail in 4 or 5 weeks. Heard that the schooner Republican, Reed, of Baltimore, was captured by a French privateer, and that he arrived in his boat at Aux Cayes. Saw a number of privateers on the passage, some of which chased him, but got clear of them by superior sailing.

Alexandria Daily Advertiser.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 4.

A letter from a respectable house in Liverpool dated July 13, says, the underwriters, alarmed by the recent capture of the ship Mary, from New York, for Liverpool, have raised the premium of insurance to 8 and 10 per cent.

A letter from a gentleman in Liverpool to his correspondent in New York, mentions the capture of the American ship Eagle, captain Shafer, by the Spaniards, on her voyage from Liverpool to Messina and Trieste. He says that he had shipped a quantity of goods on board without insurance, and that, on the faith of the conditions of the treaty between Spain and the United States, respecting neutral vessels and property being held sacred.

Captain Numan of the ship Laura, from Liverpool arrived at New York, informs, that on the 6th August, in lat. 43, long. 42 30, he was boarded by the French frigate La Topaze, and two other frigates in company, who took all captain N's newspapers &c. and informed that they had a short time previous, fallen in with the British frigate Blache, captain Mudge, and after a severe engagement the Blache went down with many of her crew, having two hundred and two men killed and wounded. Captain Mudge and some of the crew were on board the Topaze, from one of whom captain N. learned, that from the commencement of the action they were determined not to strike, adding that the Blache was never destined to wear French colors.

The captain of a Norfolk schooner, carried into Barracoa, released, and since arrived at Havanna, informed captain Sandford, of the brig Eagle, who arrived at New York on Saturday last from thence, that a Philadelphia St. Domingo brig, of twelve guns and forty-five men, had beat off three or four privateers; that all the officers of the brig and twenty-seven of her men were killed, and she was ultimately sent into Barracoa by a privateer.

Another French fleet in the West Indies.

Captain Kennard, of the brig Camillus, arrived at New-York, states, that on the 22d ult. he spoke the schooner —, capt. Preble, out 11 days from Nevis, bound to New-Haven; and that capt. P. informed him, that the evening before he sailed, intelligence was received at Nevis, that another French fleet had arrived in the West-Indies.

A letter from a merchant in Nashville, of the 1st August states, the commissioners returned the preceding evening from the negotiation, with the Indians, and had succeeded in the purchase of a considerable quantity of Lands.

(Phil Reg.)

A Rattle-Snake was found dead in the woods between the main road and the plantation of Cleland Kinloch, Esq. about 5 miles from George-Town, S. C. a few days since. It was 7 feet long, the thickness of a man's thigh, had seven rattles, and its teeth were nearly an inch and a half long.

From a Jamaica paper of July 29th, received at New-York by the schr. Nancy.

KINGSTON, July 29.

His honor the lieut. governor has been pleased to issue a proclamation bearing date the 23d inst. allowing that "as the general scarcity of provisions which prevails throughout the island, and the exigency of the case requires it," that certain other articles and things not enumerated in the proclamation of the 20th May, shall be permitted to be imported until the 21st day of December next, viz. sheep, hogs, poultry, small live stock of all kinds; fruit, and all kinds of fish; flour, corn, corn meal, bread, rice, peas and lumber of every description, in vessels belonging to neutrals and other states in amity with Great Britain.

Port of New-London, Aug. 28.

Arrived, schooner Richard, M'Gouty, 26 days from Demerara. Left there 14th ult. ship —, Harding, of Boston; schr. William, of New York; barque Jane, Pool, of Portland; the Jane came into Demerara in distress, her main and mizen masts carried by the board, captain Pool sick and very lame, and 1 of his people lying at the point of death of a fever; he also had two of his hands impressed by an English man of war that was lying in the harbor. The Richard left a number of other vessels at Demerara, and when she came out saw three vessels going in over the Bar, which she did not know. Lat. 7, long. 58, 30, was brought too by a Spanish privateer, which fired several shot at her, and compelled captain M'Gouty to get out his boat and go on board with his papers; the captain of the privateer could not speak English, and therefore could read none of the Richard's papers but the sea-letter; after reading that, he called captain M'G. a bold American, and insisted that he should stay and take supper with him, with which capt. M. complied; while they were at supper, the privateer's people had the politeness to take capt. M'G. boat and go on board the Richard and help themselves to most of her small stock, such as pigs and fowls; after which he was told he might go about his business. The captain of the privateer told captain M'Gouty that he had taken an American brig from Demerara, a day or two before, because she had English passengers on board, and was suspected of having English property likewise; among the passengers, he said, were captain Gordon (who had for some time commanded the Fort at Demerara) and his lady; they were returning to England, and thought they had got a safe conveyance; the whole of captain G's property and effects were taken from him, and he, with his lady, sent up the river Oronoke.

The Richard was also brought to in Sail Rock passage, by two English men of war, that were bound from Jamaica to Barbadoes, to get information of the English and French fleets; an officer from one of them came on board the Richard, treated capt. M'Gouty very politely, and told him he might proceed without molestation; he also informed capt. M'G. that on the 2d inst. he spoke a Danish schooner the capt. of which said that some days before he saw a French privateer take a three masted schooner under American colors; the Danish captain further said, that he soon after saw three large ships leave in sight to windward, and the privateer seeing them, left the schooner and steered another course—the ships proved to be French men of war watching the motion of the English fleet that was to sail for Grenada.

LAND TO RENT.

The subscriber offers to RENT, for one or more years,

A VERY valuable FARM, containing about 800 acres; at present occupied by Mr. Daniel Dye. It lies on Bull Run, in the county of Prince-William, near to Centreville, about 20 miles to Dumfries, 25 to Alexandria, and about the same distance to Washington City and George-Town. The land is of the first quality, if not superior to any, on that run, well adapted to the growth of every kind of grain, it is divided into three fields of about 200 acres each—those fields, when in pastures, produce white clover in the greatest abundance, the growth luxuriant and equal to any pastures below the Blue Ridge—a large quantity of meadow ground of the best quality binding on the run, which might be prepared with very little labor, and a sufficient quantity of wood-land, for keeping in repair the necessary fencing, the buildings, except a barn, are indifferent; yet the central situation of this farm (in a healthy part of the country) to those capital towns, the fertility of its soil, the great advantages that may be derived from such a farm, render it an object worth the attention of any industrious farmer.

The premises will be shewn by Spencer Ball, Esquire, near thereto, or the tenants thereto, and the terms made known by applying to Robert Mitchell.

Aug. 14.

AT a meeting of the TRUSTEES of the Poor and Work-House, at the Council Chamber—present—

JONAH THOMSON,
HENRY ROSE,
ANDREW JAMISON,
JONATHAN SWIFT,
EHISHA JANNEY,
ABRAM HEWES.

When Henry Rose, Eliza C. Dick, William H. Washington, and Thomas Seamus, were appointed Physicians to the Alexandria Dispensary, and Jesse Talbot, Apothecary.

The poor, in every situation, and more immediately at the time when they are confined by sickness, have a peculiar claim upon the benevolence of those whose circumstances enable them to administer to their wants.

No institution promises so perfectly to relieve their relief in this place as a Dispensary.

The Poor-House receives those who are among the most destitute and are deprived of every domestic accommodation. A Dispensary provides for that description of poor, who, were deprived by disease, of the earnings of their daily labor, are also deprived of the means of procuring the assistance necessary for their relief. The mechanie, who cannot without great convenience leave his family to reside in the Poor-House—the mother, who cannot be separated from her children—the tender infant, who requires the constant care and assistance of a dependent—those who labor under diseases of a protracted description and are thence incapable objects for this institution.

The benefits arising from an establishment of this sort, by which the poor are relieved at their own habitations, require no illustration. Its utility has been long experienced and acknowledged in every city, where the population of which is not greater than that of Alexandria.

For the purpose of affording conveniences to the sick, two of the physicians appointed residents of the northern, and two of the southern districts.

The regulations which have been adopted for the government of the institution, are herewith submitted to the consideration of the public.

As the present funds of the Dispensary are insufficient to carry into full operation all the objects of the institution.

The Trustees feel the strongest assurances, that the liberality of their fellow-citizens will enable them to perfect an establishment, which has even claim upon their charity.

Rules and Regulations for the government of the ALEXANDRIA DISPENSARY.

There shall be four attending Physicians and an Apothecary elected by the Trustees of the Dispensary, annually.

One division of the city into two districts.

The first district to embrace all that part of the city which lies northward of the centre of the range of squares comprehended between King and Prince streets.

The second district to embrace all that other part which lies south of the said dividing line.

Duties of the Physician.

The times of attendance at the Dispensary for the purpose of receiving applications and of prescribing for the sick, shall be from twelve to one o'clock on every Monday
